

Full-Time Manager of School Health and Wellness

Eastern North Carolina/South Carolina

The Southeast United Dairy Industry Association, a non-profit dairy promotion and education organization, is seeking a full-time health and wellness program manager. This position will implement school marketing programs with the goal of increasing dairy sales in schools and protecting dairy's position in the school environment. Also serves as a resource for health and wellness programming. The position requires extensive knowledge of the unique needs of customers, including school foodservice professionals, health/physical education teachers, classroom teachers and administrators.

A Bachelors or Master's degree in Food and /or Nutrition Science, Family and Consumer Sciences, or health-related field from an accredited college or university is required and at least three years' experience in nutrition, food marketing or health/ wellness. Experience with school nutrition programs, nutrition education and/or school food service is highly desirable. This position is based from a home office, requiring the ability to work independently. Some travel is required in the assigned state and surrounding Southeastern states.

Good communication and people skills essential. Computer proficiency desired. Good benefits. Salary negotiable.

Interested candidates should email letter and resume to careers@sedairy.org by Monday, November 7. No phone calls please.